A Word From Michael

In my sermon last Sunday, I talked about how in the past several years UBC has embarked on a series of capital campaigns called “Building God’s House” and “Caring for God’s House.” These campaigns renovated our building, which is now a wonderful asset for ministries. Our building now hosts a variety of groups, including university voice professors and students, a Hispanic Bible study, a Christian counseling practice, and the Central Virginia Baptist Association steering committee.

As wonderful an asset as our building is, I believe that the greatest asset God has given to UBC is her people — members and regular attenders who participate in the life, ministry and worship here at UBC. Now that our physical building is in good shape, I believe that it is time to “Build God’s People,” to bless, nurture and grow the people of University Baptist.

Therefore, in a couple of weeks, Ruben Swint, a congregational coach, will be visiting us to help us with this journey. He will spend time with various groups in the congregation to help us assess where we are, to clarify our mission, to strengthen our faith, to build our capacity for generosity in reaching out to the university community and beyond, to give birth to new groups, and to launch us on a journey of transformation. A schedule of these meetings will be posted in next week’s Word. In the meantime, pray that God will prepare us for this exciting journey ahead!

~Blessings, Michael
