A Word from Will

A few weeks into my new position at UBC, I want to share with you about a conversation I had recently with Rita Ralston, the Executive Director of the Ronald McDonald House. Many of you may know her, and many more of you may be familiar with the work of the Ronald McDonald House, which was started by University Baptist and originally called “Hearthstone House.”

Rita Ralston told me that even though they have been “adopted” by the Ronald McDonald organization and are now a few blocks further away, UBC continues to have a special relationship as their “birth parent.” She expressed gratitude for our historic relationship and optimism for our continued partnership.

In my conversations with Rita and later with the coordinator of the Hospitality House, we talked about the needs of their facilities, both of which provide housing for families of hospitalized patients from out of town. As we talked I was struck by the many ways that UBC groups and individual members are already contributing to these organizations.

In addition to several individuals who have volunteered regularly, the Kittie Colvin Trail Circle faithfully supports the Hospitality House with food and supplies. The Hospitality House director also mentioned what a blessing it is when their guests receive crafts and treats from our children. Next Sunday the youth from our church are cooking dinner for the guests at both the Hospitality House and Ronald McDonald House. I am sure that our church’s involvement extends beyond what I have mentioned or what I even know about, and both organizations were excited to consider further ways we may partner with them in the future.

As our church explores various new ministries with the hospital community, I find it encouraging to discover the rich heritage of ministry in our church’s history, as well as the many ways that members of our congregation are already involved in serving the needs of patients and their families. It is important that we celebrate these vital ministries that are taking place quietly but faithfully behind the scenes. I look forward to the months ahead, as we dream together of how God might use our church to expand these ministries and the service we can bring to our neighbors just down the street.

— Will

Our Sunday, October 19 Worship Service will include the recognition of Jennings Wagoner as a Deacon Emeritus.

The Ministry Moment during the service will center on the Small Jobs Team, a part of the Circle of Caring.

Welcome, Garrett Trent

Garrett Trent will be our guest speaker this Wednesday night, October 15 at 6:15, as part of our “Welcome to the Neighborhood!” series.

Garrett is a deacon at All Souls Charlottesville helping to facilitate Shalom partnerships in the community. His day job is working as the Volunteer Manager for Habitat for Humanity of Greater Charlottesville.

Garrett has lived in Charlottesville for eight years, first attending UVA and then working for InterVarsity Christian Fellowship with Greek IV.

Fun Fact: Garrett was a member of the Black Voices Gospel Choir during his time at UVA.
