Production and Getting Ready for Fall

Two weeks ago in this column, I asked what we, as a church, are designed to produce. I pointed to the systems guru Edwards Deming and his idea that systems produce what they are designed to produce. What is the system called University Baptist Church designed to produce? Are we clear about who we are? Do we believe that we have something worth sharing as in the Great Commission (Matthew 28:19-20)? Are we living out Micah 6:8? James 2:14-17?

This fall, UBC has many activities: Bible study, Worship services, Wednesday night activities, a mission trip to Haiti, A Quiet Place to Study, Harvest Luncheon, Tuesday Work Team, WMU circles, Real Life, Family Interactive Worship Services, Jubilate, Rosewood Bible Study, Collegiate Ministries, Advent, Christmas Store...and more...on into Christmas.

What are these activities designed to produce? To make it more personal, how are you plugging in? Is there something on the fall calendar that you love? Do you know someone who might love it too? Invite them. Could we do something better? Get involved and help improve it.

Personally, I am looking forward to the fall lineup at church. It is an exciting time at UBC!

Peace,
~ Matt

WMU School Supplies Project

- ◆ Contributions can still be made to this fund. Make checks payable to UBC and earmark them for "School Supplies."
- ◆ The money we collect helps purchase school supplies all during the year for low-income children at Woodbrook Elementary.
- ◆ This money also helps with shoes, emergency clothing, hygiene needs, and healthy snacks for these same children during the school year.

Look for the Recycling Bins!
